Math Vocabulary/Concepts

This week we plan to finish our chapter on place values and various number forms. We will review in class and hopefully “show what we know” (aka test) by the end of the week. Then we will begin using this knowledge to add numbers with sums of up to 1,000!

Additionally, we are working on how to properly say and write large numbers. We are trying hard to say large numbers without inserting the word “and.” For example, 247 should be said as “two hundred forty-seven” instead of as “two hundred and forty-seven.” We are also learning where to insert the hyphen when we write a number in word form. It is a bit tricky!

Although it is still early in the year, I would like the students to start to work on fact fluency both, at home & school.

Other Matters to Note:

Last week you should have received two yellow order forms for Highlights magazine and Puzzlemania magazine. Please sign them and send them back even if you do not want to subscribe. (You only need to put your child's name and your signature on the form if you choose not to subscribe, as well as check the appropriate choice. You will not need to fill in all of the other information requested.) Returning the forms will allow me to choose a useful prize for our classroom. Last year we ended up with a nice set of wooden pieces for STEM projects or indoor recess. If you threw the forms away or misplaced them, please request for replacement forms. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Have a fantastic week!
